

UPDATED!! -- IMPORTANT MARC RIDER NOTICE

On May 28, 2014, Amtrak began improvements to the tracks between MARC's Edgewood and Perryville stations on the northern end of the Penn Line, to upgrade and enhance the condition of the rails for improved safety and better operations. MARC Penn Line Train 520 has been terminating at Edgewood; passengers for Aberdeen and Perryville have been transferring from MARC 520 to Amtrak 186 at Baltimore, which added the two MARC stops.

Amtrak has notified MARC that, effective Monday, June 9, Amtrak 186 will no longer transport MARC 520's passengers. The following alternate transportation has been arranged and will be effective June 9 through June 20:

- Train 520 will still terminate at Edgewood.
- Passengers for Aberdeen and Perryville will remain on train 520 departing Baltimore, and then transfer to a dedicated motorcoach at Edgewood. There is no additional charge to ride the bus.
- This bus will operate directly from Edgewood to Aberdeen and Perryville. Estimated arrival times are 2:15pm at Aberdeen and 2:30pm at Perryville (depending on highway traffic).
- Southbound MARC Train 537 will still originate at Edgewood Station. With Amtrak honoring all MARC tickets, all MARC passengers boarding at Perryville or Aberdeen will still take Amtrak train 171 to the normal stops on the MARC 537 such as BWI Marshall Airport, New Carrollton and Washington. All others on Amtrak Train 171 will have to make the normal transfer to MARC Train 439 at Baltimore's Penn Station to access the local stations, including: West Baltimore, Halethorpe, Odenton, Bowie State or Seabrook.
- A copy of the temporary schedule for these trains is on the back of this flyer.

We thank you for your patience as the MTA works with Amtrak to complete this necessary project that will maintain a comfortable and safe ride for our passengers.
